

Prior Baccalaureate Degree—Thirty-Three Percent Tuition Discount. Students who have earned a baccalaureate degree from the probationary semester, the student is eligible to receive financial aid as awarded. The student is allowed only one probationary semester for each degree program, except under extenuating circumstances. Academic performance during the probationary semester determines the aid given in the following semesters. If the student raises his/her overall GPA to the minimum required, the student is returned to satisfactory progress status and is eligible to continue receiving aid as awarded. Students who fail to attain the minimum required GPA after the probationary semester are no longer eligible for federal or state financial aid, except under extenuating circumstances.

Appeal Procedure. When failure to attain the required GPA is due to extenuating circumstances or circumstances beyond the reasonable control of the student, he/she may appeal for a probationary extension of time limits. All master's-level students may be allowed a maximum of a one semester probation extension. Doctoral- and specialist-level students may be allowed a maximum of a two-semester probation extension. However, the student must make the appeal for the second probation extension in the same manner as for the first appeal. Students should recognize that appeals are not "automatically" granted. Future financial aid is dependent on reaching the required GPA level by the end of the additional probationary semester(s). All appeals must be made in writing and submitted to the academic dean or appointed representative of the student's respective school. Proof must support the stated extenuating circumstances. The appropriate authorizing office sends written notification to Student Financial Services of the appeal decision.
