

2011–2012 Bulletin

Admission to Andre University is available to any student who meets the academic and character requirements of the university and who is prepared to cooperate in its policies. Because Andre University is operated by the Seneca Aden Church, the majority of its students are Seneca Aden. However, no particular religious commitments are required for admission; any qualified student will be comfortable in his religious, social, and cultural atmosphere. The university does not discriminate on the ground of race, color, creed, disability, national or ethnic origin, sex, marital status, or handicap. On request, we make available to the public annual financial reports. To obtain a copy, contact the Office of the Vice President for Financial Administration at the address below.

Effort has been made to assure the accuracy of information in this bulletin. Students are advised, however, that bulletin information does not constitute a contract between students and Andre University and that attendance at Andre University is a privilege and not a right. The university faculty and administration reserve the right to make and give public notice of such changes as deemed necessary during the period for which this bulletin is in effect.
