

OLD TESTAMENT

---

Seminary N

- -

Faculty

- L O R V N ~~David~~
Richard M. Davidson
Jacques B. Doukhan

OLD TESTAMENT

OTST (–) Bible Lands and Their Explorations Countries of the Bible and archaeological explorations carried out in them during the past years; the geographical setting of Bible history; the background, rise, and progress of biblical archaeology; methods employed by archaeologists in using material excavated and found in the Near East.	language, and practice in the use of lexicons and commentaries. Aims to provide the minister with a practical study tool.
OTST (–) History of the Ancient Near East An introduction to the history of the Ancient Near East up to the time of Alexander the Great. Topics alternate between the history of Egypt and the history of Mesopotamia. Emphasis on the intersection with biblical history. Students may take each topic once.	OTST (–) Biblical Hebrew II Development of reading ability in narrative portions of the Hebrew Bible for the student who has OTST or its equivalent.
OTST (–) Seminar in Old Testament History Individual research on specific problems for advanced students in Old Testament history. Prerequisite: OTST or OTST or equivalent. Repeatable.	OTST (–) Ancient Near Eastern Languages Basic elements of grammar and syntax, with a practical vocabulary, for one of the following languages: Sumerian, Akkadian, Egyptian, Ugaritic, Hittite, Syriac, and Coptic. Language announced in advance. Prerequisite: OTST or its equivalent. Repeatable.
OTST (–) Archaeology of Palestine An introduction to the principles, methods, and results of archaeological research in Palestine, especially in how they impact biblical studies.	OTST (–) Biblical Hebrew III The reading of substantial portions of various types of prose and poetry in the Hebrew Bible, with attention to matters of syntax. Prerequisite: OTST and or their equivalent. Repeatable.
OTST (–) Seminar in Archaeology and History of Antiquity The archaeology and historical discoveries and problems related to the Old Testament. Repeatable. Prerequisite: OTST or or equivalent and OTST or equivalent, or permission of instructor.	OTST (–) Biblical Aramaic Study of the essentials of grammar and syntax (with some reference to biblical Hebrew) coordinated with reading and analysis of a substantial part of the Aramaic portions of the Bible. Prerequisite: OTST or its equivalent.
OTST (–) Archaeological Field Work In connection with the Andrews-sponsored archaeological expeditions, qualified students obtain practical training in archaeological field work by assisting in the supervising of excavations, drawing, registering, reading of pottery, and kindred work. Repeatable to credits.	OTST (–) Seminar in Ancient Near Eastern Languages A study of Ancient Near Eastern languages and/or texts not offered in other courses. Prerequisite: OTST or its equivalent. Repeatable.
OTST (–) History of Israel An introduction to the history of Israel in the pre-monarchial, monarchial, and post-monarchial periods.	OTST (–) Readings in the Septuagint Reading of selected texts in the Septuagint and learning how to use the apparatus in the standard editions of the Septuagint. Prerequisite: NTST and OTST or their equivalent.
OTST (–) Archaeology in Evangelism An introduction to the use of archaeology in evangelistic settings. Field projects are observed and presented by students. Prerequisites: OTST or equivalent.	Hebrew/Aramaic Exegesis Language prerequisites for courses in this section should be noted carefully.
OTST (–) Near Eastern Archaeology Covers such periods of antiquity as the Bronze Age, Iron Age, Early Christian period, and Byzantine times. A study of ancient artifacts, architecture, and other mainly non-written materials. Repeatable. Prerequisite: OTST or equivalent.	OTST (–) Daniel Exegetical study in selected portions of Daniel. Prerequisite: Must have met the intermediate Hebrew requirement.
Language and Literature	OTST (–) Prophets Interpretation of the Nevi'im (Prophets, except Daniel) and exegetical study in selected portions of its books. Prerequisite: Must have met the intermediate Hebrew requirement or be enrolled in OTST .
OTST (–) Biblical Hebrew I The fundamentals of biblical Hebrew: a small but practical vocabulary, an understanding of the grammatical structure of the	OTST (–) Writings Interpretation of the Ketubim (Writings) and exegetical study in selected portions of its books. Prerequisite: Must have met the intermediate Hebrew requirement or be enrolled in OTST .

