2.4. Meet with your elders or church board and study through the book, Revolution in the Church, together. With their consultation devise a plan to implement the ministry of the laity in your church. Write a report on what you did, the reaction of the members, and any changes that you were able to implement in the church.

2.5. Preach a series of at least three sermons on the role of the pastor as an equipper and the member as a minister. Devise an evaluation form to pass out at the end that would reveal how member's ideas of ministry were changed as a result of your sermons. You might want to do the member survey before and after the sermons. Report the results and attach your sermons as part of your report.

2.6. Preach a sermon on the church as a relational community and describe the early Adventist social meeting. Then in the next few weeks conduct an early Adventist social meeting as part of the worship hour. Pass out a survey to get member reaction to the social meeting. Record what happened in your report and enclose a copy of the sermon.

2.7. Conduct the Recapturing the Adventist Mission Seminar as an alternative Sabbath School course, a week-end seminar, or prayer meeting series. Especially encourage your leadership to attend. As a result of the seminar seek to create a dream for your church. Report what you did, the reaction of the
